Creativity is critical to solving complex challenges and leading organizational change. In today's program students learned how to build a culture that sparks inspiration and collaboration, develop their ability to think creatively, and ensure their next innovation project is set up for success. Through interactive lectures and dynamic discussions that draw on proven theories, they learned the skills, techniques, and strategies in order to invent new things.

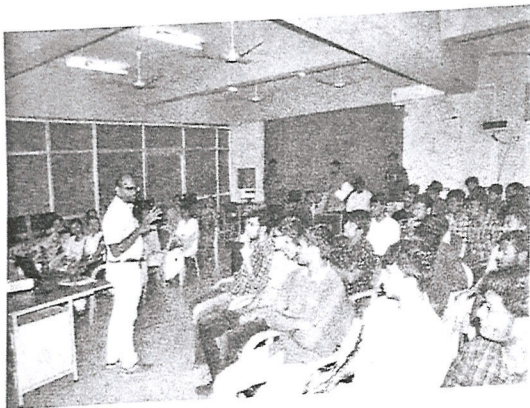

In the inaugural function Prof. D. Subba Rao, rector of university presented as a Chief Guest. He addressed that the creativity is important because it is a key ingredient of innovative process, and without which innovation is nearly impossible. Creativity is needed to go “out of the box” and find new ideas later it can be turned to innovative solutions.
