PROGRAM REPORT

Program Name: AWS Educate Account Workshop

Program Date: 04-09-2017

Venue: JNTUA College of Engineering, Pulivendula

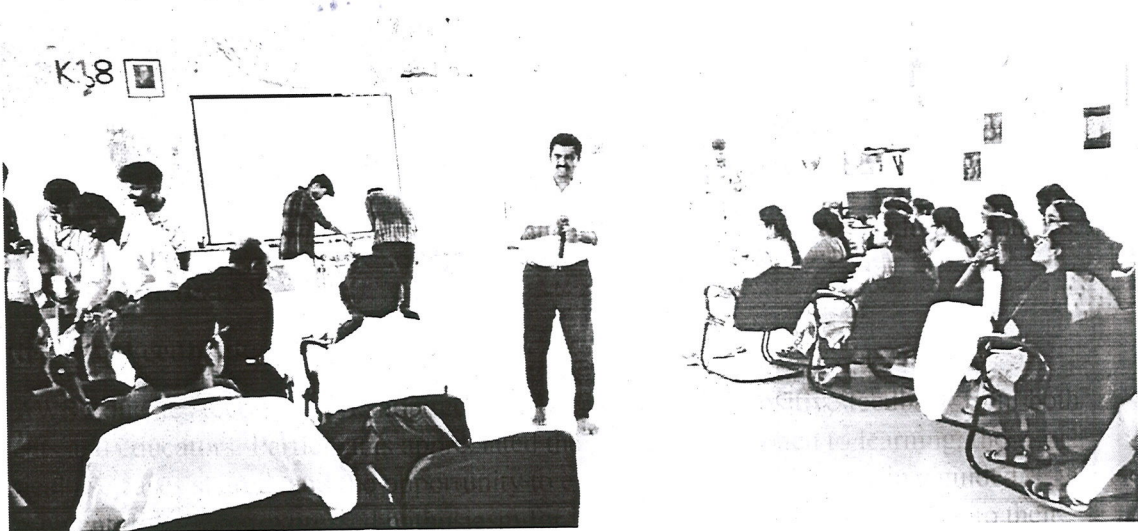

About the Program:

1. The AWS Educate Account workshop was organized by AWS (Amazon Web Services) in collaboration with educational institutions to introduce students, educators, and researchers to the AWS Educate program. The primary aim was to equip participants with cloud computing skills and provide them access to AWS cloud resources for academic and research purposes.
2. Familiarize participants with the AWS Educate program and its benefits for academic institutions.
3. Guide participants through the process of creating and managing AWS Educate accounts.
4. Provide hands-on training on cloud computing concepts, services, and best practices.
5. Enable educators to incorporate cloud technology into their curricula and research projects.
6. Empower students with practical skills and experience in using AWS cloud resources.

Trainees Attended: 153

Participants Feedback:

The AWS Educate Account Workshop received overwhelmingly positive feedback from both students and educators. Participants appreciated the hands-on approach to learning, the practical use cases shared, and the opportunity to explore the AWS platform in a guided environment. Educators expressed enthusiasm for incorporating cloud computing into their curricula, recognizing its relevance in today's technology-driven world.

Conclusion:

The AWS Educate Account Workshop proved to be a successful initiative in fostering cloud computing skills among students and educators. By providing access to AWS cloud resources and offering practical training, the workshop empowered participants to harness the power of cloud technology for academic and research purposes. Participants left the workshop with newfound knowledge and confidence in using AWS services, contributing to their academic growth and future career prospects.

Overall, the AWS Educate Account Workshop played a vital role in bridging the gap between academia and industry, preparing the next generation of cloud professionals and researchers to thrive in the digital age.
